Real Presence

Dear Fatima Family,

Ever been at dinner with a friend and have them answer their cell phone? Have you ever felt that you lost someone's attention when their eyes were diverted from you in order to read a text message? Ever find yourself distracted from listening to God because someone else has your attention?

In recent weeks I have had all these experiences. I call this the slow erosion of "real presence." You know the experience I am talking about – someone is with you – you make eye contact with each other. There is a connection deep within and at the end of the conversation you know that you have been heard, that you have connected with that person. But we also know the other experience of talking with someone and his or her eyes are darting about, they shuffle back and forth from one foot to the other; mentally they are somewhere else. You know that your message is not getting across. You walk away feeling disconnected, you were not heard.

Lately I have noticed how much more difficult it is to experience real presence in my life. I also have noticed how difficult it is to experience real presence in my prayer. In a world that desires 24/7 availability it is difficult to choose to be unavailable. With news and information available throughout the day and night, it is tempting to check frequently for "breaking news" or developing stories. A text message or a voice mail seems to call to us, arousing our curiosity – who could that be? What do they want? It will only take a moment to check on that message or reply to that text. And when I do I lose out.

Even here at Fatima, a place to be ...with God, we have noticed the challenge presented by today's need to be only as far away as your phone. It is much harder today to develop a sense of Sabbath, to go away on retreat, to take an uninterrupted time for prayer, to be available only to God. In times past retreats were generally experiences of profound silence. When we left home for the retreat we gave our family a telephone number where we could be reached "in case of an emergency." This protected our time away seeing that our respite from the routine of our lives would only be interrupted for a true emergency.

I have come to realize that my time with God deserves the same self-discipline that I use for my work. I have to choose to really be in the moment with God.

Cell phones, "Smart Phones" and "Blackberries" are relatively new, although there are already many young people who cannot remember life without them. By how we use them we set a standard that will have far reaching implications in the future. It is a good time to set limits on availability and to place emphasis on time for prayer and the relationship we have with God and with our families.. I know that to be truly present to God and others I have to set aside all the distractions and that includes my cell phone and my computer.

Here at Fatima we are committed to helping you be here, be here so that you can be ... with God. When on retreat we encourage to leave our main number (317-545-7681) for your family to use "in case of an emergency". Leave your phone in the car or turned off in your room and really rest in God. You will leave refreshed and renewed in the love of God. Ultimately we hope you will hear a call while you are here, just not from your cell phone.

Love,
Fr. Jim

"Stirring the Waters:

Finding the Place of Quiet Within"

A Weekend Retreat with Author Paula D'Arcy

Paula D'Arcy

We welcome author Paula D'Arcy back to Our Lady of Fatima Retreat House. How can we begin to understand the harmony and mystery of life and experience that mystery from within? An inner place of quiet changes many things. Gifts you already hold become more visible and you begin to glimpse who you might be if you were not afraid.

Paula D'Arcy is author, former therapist, speaker, and playwright. Among her best-selling books are Gift of the Red Bird, When People Grieve, and Sacred Threshold. Paula is President of Red Bird Foundation (www.redbirdfoundation.com) which reaches out to those in need of healing and hope. She is also an adjunct faculty member at the Oblate School of Theology in San Antonio, TX. Her work stems from personal tragedy. In 1975 she survived a drunk driving accident which took the lives of her husband and two-year old daughter, Sarah. Paula was three months pregnant at the time and gave birth to her second daughter, Beth, six months later.

"Listening to God the Benedictine Way": A Day of Reflection with Fr. Adrian Burk

The Benedictine lifestyle is an intensification of Baptismal grace: a call to simplicity in a world overwhelmed by choices and demands for commitment; to humility in a culture where success is measured by prestige and power; to stillness and silence in a society filled with the noise of contradictory messages; to live in and with creative tensions when we often look for "either/or," simplistic answers to life's most amazing questions, the mysteries that ground us in existence, the greatest Mystery of all. Come spend a day reflecting with me on these central themes of Benedictine spirituality and how to make simplicity, humility, stillness/silence an integral part your life and in the process discover how creative tensions can transform and renew your life in Christ.

Each year Our Lady of Fatima Retreat House hosts two WWME weekends. These weekends are for any married couple desiring a richer, fuller life together, helping couples to deepen and enrich the joys in marriage. The weekend gives couples a chance to examine their lives together, to share feelings, hopes, disappointments, joys, frustration and to learn to do so in an honest heart-to-heart encounter. It is not a retreat nor a marriage clinic or group therapy. It is a unique approach to revitalizing a Christian marriage. Contact Jill & Mark Levine with questions or to register.

1. Our maintenance staff members have been very busy these past six months. We thank Mike Sullivan and crew for assistance with the first phase of our HVAC project; installation of blinds in every guest bedroom which were purchased by our volunteer league, clearing and cleaning of the trails this spring and summer, re-sealing the main driveway, re-painting of the lower level and much more. We have had many comments on the look of the house and how inviting it is. Thank you, gentlemen!

2. We are grateful to Boy Scout Josh Schmidt along with the help of his father and fellow scouts for trail work on the property. Josh's Eagle Scout project involved shoring up a section of our trail vulnerable to erosion, installing a set of steps on a hill and creating and installing directional signs along the trails. Thank you, Josh and crew!

3. Last fall and winter two of our awesome volunteers worked many hours in re-opening a section of our trails that for some reason was completely overgrown in the past. We extend thanks to Stephen and Carol Kappes for this and much more maintenance on our trails in the past years. Thanks to both of them!

4. Volunteer & master gardener Jan Townsend's hard work on our property is beautifully evident all the time but especially at this time of year. We are blessed to have her as part of the Fatima family. Come for a visit and see for yourself! Thank you, Jan.

5. Our ever-faithful volunteer league supports us in many ways. One way is by gifting money to us to purchase items for the house, making our home all the more inviting to our guests. One example is the two new awnings for the building. Thank you for your tireless work on behalf of the retreat ministry!

6. We have many benefactors here at the retreat house. Because of their generosity we are able to enhance areas of the house. Plant stands and vases have been donated for the chapel and new mats with our logo have been purchased for our main and conference room entrances along with many other items.
