St. Elizabeth Catholic Charities

St. Elizabeth Catholic Charities offers a wide variety of services to assist women, children and families in need. Through the agency’s three Residential Programs, pregnant and/or parenting women and their young children receive shelter and support to get back on their feet. St. Elizabeth’s adoption program, Adoption Bridges of Kentuckiana, is licensed in both Indiana and Kentucky, providing a full range of services and personalized support to birth parents and adoptive families. The agency’s Court Appointed Special Advocates (CASA) program recruits and trains volunteers to provide direct support to individuals with developmental disabilities. The agency provides counseling for several area schools as well as outreach community counseling services. Marie’s Community Distribution Program is open Tuesdays and Thursdays, providing essential mother/baby and household goods free of charge to families in need.

The St. Thomas More Society of Central Indiana is a nonprofit association of Catholic lawyers and judges in Indianapolis and the surrounding area who strive to develop the relationship between their faith and law and to encourage civility in the profession. Its mission is to provide a means of fostering the spiritual, intellectual and professional growth of its members. The society seeks to inspire those intellectual, spiritual and moral qualities that were exemplified in the life of its patron saint, Thomas More. To that end, the society sponsors the annual Red Mass, hosts regular meetings, provides continuing legal education, and cohosts other activities in affiliation with the Archdiocese of Indianapolis.
